Protecting UAE Businesses from Cyber Threats | Certified Cybersecurity Sales Specialist | ThreatPown VAR + Nebula Certified
Dubai, United Arab Emirates

Summary

I help businesses protect their systems and data from cyber threats using Malwarebytes (ThreatDown). At iTeam Systems, I work with business owners, IT teams, and decision-makers to understand their security challenges and recommend the right solutions. Whether it's endpoint protection, threat detection, or improving overall security. My focus is not just on selling licenses, but on building long-term relationships and making sure the solution actually adds value to the business. If you're looking to improve your company's security or want to explore how Malwarebytes can help, feel free to connect or message me. Message me here or reach out at angel@iteam-systems.com if you want a quick conversation or product demo.
